

An on-line catalogue of Arabic manuscripts in the Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences

TIMA grant report

Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences

12 October 2009

With the help of TIMA, a project was started in November 2008 to catalogue sixty Arabic manuscripts in the Oriental Collection of the Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences (LHAS) within the on-line catalogue of the library. Although the Library was established in 1826, and although its Oriental Collection has been the single most important source for Oriental studies in Hungary, its manuscript collections has remained without cataloguing until recently. A few years ago the catalogue of Turkish manuscripts was printed, but the Arabic and Persian manuscripts remained without a proper catalogue. This project intended the remedy this situation thereby bringing the collection to the attention of the interested public.

In order to realize the purpose of the project, a team was formed including persons dealing with informatics and cataloguing alike.

Several major problems had to be solved:

- The first major step was to develop bilingual (English-Arabic) input. The TIMA grant made it possible to introduce bilingual cataloguing in the Library especially for this project.
- The second major problem the team faced was to bridge the gap between the transliteration system used e.g. in the Library of Congress and the one used traditionally in the LHAS. At the end, the following solution was agreed upon. Besides Arabic, names and titles will be searchable in both transliteration systems. This, on the one hand, ensures compatibility with other records in our Library, on the other hand, it makes the records fully compatible with the records of other major libraries, like e.g. the LoC.
- The third major step was to define the structure of the records. A decision was made not to develop a special system but to integrate the full MS catalogue entries within the general on-line catalogue of the Library as far as possible. In Hungary a slightly modified version of MARC, HUNMARC is used in cataloguing. Taking into account all the necessities of cataloguing MSS and the possibilities provided by the MARC fields, the following structure was decided upon by the team¹:

¹ The structure of the records was discussed during two meetings (Istanbul, Cambridge 2009) of the TIMA Cataloguing Subcommittee, and the suggestions of the Subcommittee were taken into consideration in the development of the final structure.

MARC fields used in the records

- 001 (automatic field)
- 005 (automatic field)
- 008 (automatic field)
- 040 Catalogue source (automatic field)
- 041 Language
- 100 Author
- 240 Uniform title
- 245
 - a) Title (in the MS)
 - c) Author (in the MS)
 - e) Copyist
- 260
 - a) Place
 - c) Date
- 300
 - a) number of folios / lines
 - b) illustrations
 - c) page dimension, text block
- 501 Content; Marginal notes (this field can be repeated)
- 503 References (GAL, Zirikli, Kahhala)
- 505 In the case of collections: the other MS(S) contained in the collection (repeated according to the number of MSS)
- 533 Information on microfilm or digitisation
- 561 Ownership information (with remarks, stamps, etc.)
- 562 Codicology: binding, paper, script, ink
- 583 Information on eventual conservation

- 588 Missing pages
- 600 Author of commented work
- 630 Title of commented work (it seems to be a field in HUNMARC)
- 653 Subject
- 700 Copyist
- 740 Additional title
- 850 (Library – Automatic field)
- 852 Shelf mark
- 856 Link to illustrations
- 880 Names and titles repeated in Arabic and in LOC transliteration (field repeated as necessary)
- 988 Incipit, explicit and colophon (in 3 different 988 fields)
- LKR Link to the first MS in a collected volume
- BAS (Automatic field)

All the 60 MSS have been entered in the online catalogue of the LHAS, within the database “Manuscripts of the Oriental Collection”. Since the majority of MSS contains multiple works (between two and nine), the number of works catalogued in this way is 101.

These records are available and searchable on-line. The records are bilingual (English and Arabic), names and titles can be searched and browsed in Arabic, in LOC transliteration and in the transliteration system used generally by the LHAS.

The records can be reached via the main portal of the Library: <http://www.mtak.hu> (ALEPH). Shelf marks (call numbers) start with “Arab”, so it is quite straightforward to have a list of all the MSS.

We consider an important feature of the on-line catalogue that all the entries contain good quality scanned images of at least two pages – which can be enlarged– of each MS (containing the incipit and the explicit), e.g. the incipit of O. 112.

A further strength is the treatment of collected volumes. All the titles of a collected MS have been individually catalogued in full, at the same time the individual titles are linked together in a “master” record which is the record containing the first MS in the volume, thereby making it possible for the reader to grasp the content of the whole volume. A good example is Arab O. 112 a collected work of four titles. A screen of its standard format can be seen on the next page.

It is also hoped that a future grant will enable us to continue this work and thereby make the whole collection known to the public.
